Trout Weapons!

Stocked Trout are subtle feeders and the most efficient eating machines. They are used to eating VERY light and small food and they never miss. Adjusting your trout weapons to their light feeding style will help you score many more fish. Stocked trout are fed pellets where they are raised so for several years, they know the sound and drop of the pellets on and in the water!

Fish-Catching Trout & Panfish Fishing Tips

Attract

One of our main trout weapons is the Fish in a Barrel Trout pellets. We hand throw a small amount of pellets to get the trout into our area. The first five minutes, we are throwing 5-10 pellets once every :30 seconds. If we see trout, we then cut back to once every 5 minutes. This will not only hold the trout in the area, it will also get them hunting for food dropping in the water. Shop

Suspend

Our floats for trout are as small as we can possibly cast! The smaller the float, the more trout you will catch. We use a 5" size pencil float by Gapen. If we need to cast further we will switch to a size 7" pencil float. If it is windy and only as a last resort, we will fish a 5" crappie float by Gapen. These floats will lightly suspend a bait above the fish and will best show the subtle bite of the trout. They bite so subtle at times that a 3-count is used before striking! They sometimes release the bait and let the float come back up.

The Bait

Small hook baits work best such as spike (maggot) and wax worm grub. Half a red worm will also work, but spike is our favorite because they are single bite, they sink slowly and they live under water for :15 minutes!!

Our Hook

Our hook for stocked trout is the Mosquito size 14. You may want to fish the Mosquito size 12 (from Owner Hooks), but these really get stuck in bluegill if you should happen to hook those!

Size 14 is amazing and “hides” well - remember the trout has amazing vision. The smaller the hook, the less likely the trout will pause before striking! Shop

The Best Rod

Some things you just can't skimp on. Having the best rod for casting small floats into the wind and at distance is very important. Have a whippy rod? Your casts will suffer lost distance. We use the best shore rod in North America for the price. The Gapen 10 IM6, million modulus carbon-kevlar rod is simply amazing. It is the lightest rod you will fish, most sensitive and it has amazing beast power should you tangle with a 7 - 10 lb. fish, this rod can be used for panfish all the way to channel cats and carp to 20 lb. - they cover all species. For hook set and casting, this rod can not be beaten. Shop

Lines for Trout

If you have weeds or timber, you may want to fish a 6 lb. main line on your spinning reel. If you have open water, fish 4 lb. main line because it casts further. I pick a bright main line so I can see it. I use bright green 4 lb. Suffix and bright orange 6 lb. Suffix, that allows me to quickly tell which reel to grab.

Great Trout Float Reels

We like a smooth reeling spinning reel in about a 4000 series so you have a big spool. Big spools cast further with less line coil. Mini reels are a bad choice. We field tested a great reel, the 4K spinning reel is smooth like butter with 12 ball bearings. Foldable handle is nice for travel. Limitless drag and good retrieve speed help when bringing your rig back in. Shop
